Orders Investigation Of Mysterious Death

...CONNECTED WITH ESTES CASE?

Bryan, Tex (UPI) — Dist. Atty. Bryan Russ ordered a grand jury Friday to reopen immediately the investigation of the strange death of Henry H. Marshall, an Agriculture Department worker officially said to have committed suicide after breaking the Billie Sol Estes case.

The grand jury investigation was ordered by Russ and announced by Dist. Judge John Barron. The grand jury will convene Monday in Franklin, Tex. Russ said Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman will be invited to testify in the "top to bottom" investigation.

Marshall was chief of production adjustment in Texas for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office (ASC).

Marshall, 51, was found dead on his ranch near Franklin last June 3 with a 22-caliber rifle a foot from his body. There were 5 rifle wounds in his body, which has caused disagreement with an official verdict of suicide.

NU Budget Hike Minor

BOOST FOR STAFF BENEFITS, MAINTENANCE OF PLANT

By HAL BROWN
Star Staff Writer

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents Friday approved a University budget for the 1962-63 term calling for only a slight increase over the current year's figures.

The 1962-63 budget of $18,945,000 is an increase of $58,945 over the current year's expenditures.

The major items of increase are in staff benefits with a $120,234 increase over the $932,441 spent in 1961-62, and in the operation and maintenance of the physical plant with a proposed increase of $119,439 over the $1,821,456 for the current year.

Comptroller Joseph Soshnik explained that the slight increase in physical plant maintenance is because of an enlarged plant both on the Lincoln and Omaha campuses.

The increase on the Lincoln campus is caused mainly by the additional services needed at Nebraska Hall and on the Omaha campus to the University Hospital, Dr. Soshnik said.

The budget contains only limited faculty increases, primarily those resulting from promotions in rank. Dr. Soshnik explained that in the past year Nebraska has been able to hold its ground in its relative position among Big 8 schools in regard to faculty salaries.

But he pointed out that Colorado, Kansas and Kansas State have already approved appropriations for the 1962-63 term in excess of the current year's expenditures.

"With these schools increasing appropriations, we will clearly lose ground in our relative position as far as faculty salaries are concerned," Dr. Soshnik said.

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin pointed out that major staff losses during the 1957-59 biennium were 140 while during the 1959-61 period losses amounted to 40, about 5% of the total major staff positions.

"So far this year our losses have been less than in any previous year since I have been here," Dr. Hardin said. "But we can't be very smug about this because the difficulty is going to come in the ensuing years."

Dr. Soshnik said the slight increase in the operating budget is caused by a higher income from indirect cost allowances, such as training, research and fellowship grants.

The estimated income from student tuitions and fees of $2,452,886 is the same as the present fiscal year. Dr. Soshnik said any increased income from a higher enrollment will be used to finance the added staff positions needed.

Dr. Soshnik said shifting in allocations was necessary to compensate for the $100,000 added expense in the University's share of the retirement program and for a $20,000 increase in social security obligations, caused by a higher rate slated for next year.

The comptroller explained that during the present year, the newly-enacted retirement program was only in effect 10 months, compared with 12 months this coming year.

JAMES R. HOFFA

Say Truckers Gave Him Million Dollars

Washington (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa was indicted by a federal grand jury Friday on charges of accepting more than a million dollars in illegal payments from a Michigan trucking company.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy announced that the two-count indictment was returned in Nashville, Tenn.

He said it accuses Hoffa and the late Owen (Bert) Brennan, former teamster vice-president, of receiving $1,008,057 from Commercial Carriers Inc.

Kennedy said Commercial Carriers, a nationwide automobile transport company, also was named as a defendant.

Kennedy said one count accuses Hoffa and Brennan of violating a Taft-Hartley Act provision which prohibits its employee representatives from demanding or receiving payments from employers, except for wages or other specified exceptions.

The second count charges Hoffa and Commercial Carriers with conspiring from January 1947 to the present time to violate the same provision.

Conviction on the charges could bring a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine and a year in jail for Hoffa and $10,000 fine for Commercial Carriers.

Hoffa is presently under indictment in Florida on federal charges alleging misuse of more than $500,000 in union funds. The Florida charges were related to a real-estate development in Brevard County, Fla.

The Teamsters president is also under a charge here of assaulting a union aide, a misdemeanor charge but which carries a possible penalty of a year in jail in event of conviction. Hoffa pleaded innocent to the charge Friday.

The indictment in Nashville charges illegal payments were made by Commercial Carriers to Hoffa and Brennan between May 1949 and May 1958.

It charged the payments were made through the Test Fleet Corp., a Tennessee firm established in April 1949.

Since March 1954 the firm has been known as the Hobern Corp.

After setting up Test Fleet in Nashville, Commercial turned over all of its stock in the new firm to the wives of Hoffa and Brennan in their maiden names, Josephine Poszywak and Alice Johnson, the indictment said.

The establishment of Test fleet, the grand jury charged, was designed to enable the firm to take title to 10 trucks, lease them to commercial and then have them all assigned to the delivery of automobiles, the most profitable part of Commercial's hauling business.

The rental earnings from the trucks were then distributed to Test Fleet stockholders, the indictment said.

White Now Has 188-Vote Lead

... RONIN DROPS TO THIRD

Omaha (AP) — The lead swung back to District Judge Paul White of Lincoln Friday in the neck-and-neck race for nomination for chief justice of the Nebraska Supreme Court.

An Associated Press recheck of the unofficial vote in all 93 counties showed Judge White leading District Judge Herbert Ronin of Lincoln by 188 votes.

District Judge Clarence Beck of North Platte had the other nomination cinched from the outset.

The recheck gave Judge White an unofficial total of 68,555 and Judge Ronin a total of 68,367.

These totals do not include mail votes.

The recheck uncovered the fact that the unofficial count in Webster County is still two precincts short for this race. Webster's vote previously had been reported complete.

The totals exclude Lucky Precinct in Cherry County, which still had not reported its vote to the county clerk's office Friday.

Tornado Rips Out Power At McCook

Twisters and high wind across Nebraska again Friday caused considerable damage.

Regular and emergency power lines linking McCook and North Platte were ripped out of commission when a tornado struck a mile west of Maywood.

And what was believed to have been a tornado hit at least two farms 4 miles east of Wahoo early Friday evening.

At the Lawrence Jelinek Farm, a machine shed was demolished, the roof of another building ripped off and the garage damaged.

Mrs. Jelinek said the house was not touched and there were no injuries.

Harley Spencer, who lives nearby, said his barn was moved on its foundation.

Mrs. Jelinek said three-quarters of an inch of rain fell in 10 minutes.

For more than an hour McCook was without power while crews switched lines to draw on the output of the Johnson Lake Plant.

According to Boyd Miller, manager of the Southwest Public Power District at Palisade, power to most of 6 counties was out.

Off The Air

The power failure took McCook radio stations off the air and caused the press run of the McCook Gazette to be one hour late.

While there were several reports of funnel clouds touching ground, most of the damage apparently centered north of Maywood.

The tornado cut a quarter-mile path, uprooting trees, tearing out wires and flattening a steel grain bin on the Howard Jenkins farm.

C-47 Damaged

At the Lincoln Air Force Base, the wind blew a C-47 on display near the west entrance of the airbase into a car parked on a road about 100 yards away.

Wind and lightning did some slight damage in Lincoln. Power lines swaying in the wind blew down, falling across a fence at 2627 Winthrop Rd. Lightning struck the Wayne Pine residence at 2916 Franklin; the bolt there blew a light meter away from the house and left it hanging by a wire.

Elsewhere around the state there were reports of funnel clouds, wind and rain.

At Loup City, a three-day rain total shows 3.85 inches of precipitation.

Burwell reported rain and hail Friday afternoon with two inches of moisture during the day.

Streams Rise

According to the weather bureau, rain totaling from two to 4 inches in a 48-hour period ending Friday noon in southwest Nebraska would cause substantial rises in streams in those areas.

The bureau said flood stage would generally be reached on the Republican River at Orleans and at Sappa Creek near Beaver City Saturday morning. Beaver Creek would reach bankful at Beaver City Saturday evening, according to the weather bureau.

Robbers Kill Detectives; Police Force Turns Out

New York (AP) — Two detectives were shot and killed Friday as they interrupted two bandits in the holdup of a candy store in a busy Brooklyn business district.

A brief, blazing exchange of bullets ended with both police officers dead, one with a single shot through the heart.

The bandits escaped with $3,000 to $4,000 in loot, but blood stains outside the store led one high police official to say:

"There is a distinct possibility that one of the gunmen was shot. We have alerted all hospitals and doctors."

The two officers, in plain clothes, had been customers in the store moments earlier. They rushed back in from the street when one of the bandits fired a shot in the air to terrorize a store executive.

As is traditional when police are killed in line of duty, the full 24,000-man New York City police department was alerted in a grim search for the cop-killers.

The victims were John P. Finnegan, 29, on the force 5 years, and Luke J. Fallon, 56, a veteran of 25 years in the department. Both started as patrolmen and were promoted to detective after feats of valor.

The two gunmen fled the candy store in the Borough Park section of Brooklyn after the double slaying. Their means of escape was not known.

Khrushchev Calls Laos Second Korea

Sofia, Bulgaria (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev said Friday night the United States was placing itself in a "difficult position" in the Laos crisis and likened the situation to the Korean War.

Khrushchev, returning to Sofia from a tour of provincial cities and towns, told newsmen at a reception:

"The Americans ventured on a difficult situation in Laos. They are on the first step of a ladder which is difficult to climb. However, it is also difficult to climb down.

Difficult To Stop

"It was easy to start a war in Korea but very difficult to stop it."

Earlier, in an off-the-cuff speech in Obnovo, Khrushchev said the American troops sent into Thailand will be driven out and warned that "blood will be shed there."

He implied that the Thai people will compel American forces to leave and said, "It is only a question of time."

He said the dispatch of the troops by President Kennedy was "an unreasonable decision" and "does not bespeak a great mind."

Khrushchev, in a far-ranging speech during a welcoming ceremony at this northern Bulgarian collective village, also said the Soviet Union will resume nuclear testing.

12 East Germans, Mostly Elderly, Bore To Freedom

16 DAYS NEEDED TO DIG TUNNEL

Berlin (UPI) — An 81-year-old man disclosed Friday he led a group of 12 East Germans, most of them elderly, to haven in West Berlin through a tunnel they dug laboriously under the border.

"I would not even want to be buried over there," escape leader Max Thomas said, telling a news conference how the party dug the 30-yard long tunnel from his chicken coop in the Soviet zone town of Gleincke to the French sector of Berlin.

The refugees — 8 men and 4 women — fled May 5. Their escape was announced here Friday after discovery of the tunnel by the communists made its future use impossible.

Thomas said the refugees dug the tunnel 5 feet 6 inches deep and removed 3,500 pails of dirt. The work required 16 days.

They Dug it Deep
"We dug it so deep that our wives would not have to crawl," Thomas said. "We wanted them to walk unbowed to freedom."

The male companions of Thomas were aged 76, 70, 58, 57, 55 and 16. Mrs. Thomas would not disclose her age but the other women said they were 68, 48 and 46.

The group emerged from their tunnel after dark on May 5 just 3 feet beyond the last strand of barbed wire erected by the communists to prevent escape.

The secret of the tunnel was so well kept that it was not discovered by communist police until 5 days later.

But the refugees had a narrow escape while they were digging. Another refugee who was unaware of the tunnel project, tried to escape in the same area and Red border police opened fire.

"Then the police searched the whole area but they did not find our tunnel," Thomas said.

Youngster Returns
In the meantime another and much younger refugee, who had run away from his East Berlin home and refused to go back, returned home Friday to celebrate his 10th birthday.

Little Thomas Molitor left home April 10 after a quarrel over his playing hooky from a communist children's organization. He leaped from the roof of a 5-story apartment house in the East-West Berlin border into a West Berlin fireman's net.

His mother refused at first to enter West Berlin to get him, asking that he be transferred to her on the East-West border. But Friday the mother, accompanied by a communist lawyer came to get Thomas at a West Berlin children's home and took him back to East Berlin.

Danger Still Is Lurking

... Harkins Warns

Bangkok, Thailand (AP)—U.S. Gen. Paul D. Harkins warned Friday that danger still lurks from pro-communist forces in Laos whose drive from the north brought a rush of American soldiers and Marines here to protect Thailand's border.

Though the Pathet Lao is no longer exploiting victories in northwest Laos, "there's not much change in the situation which precipitated the crisis," said the general. He flew here from his main headquarters in South Viet Nam on his first commuting trip to inspect the Thailand leg of his new command.

It seemed, though, that 1,800 Marines already encamped in a dusty paddy field amid an impressive display of shooting iron close to the Laos border were here mostly for a moral backdrop to the Thai people for the present. They have no orders to shoot any communists they suspect of slipping over the border.

Can't Fire Yet
"The troops do not have the right to fire on suspect infiltrators as of now," Gen. Harkins told a news conference.

He warned, however, that "the communists are in a position to do what they did in Nam Thra. The potential is still there for them to do the same again."

Tersely Told Tales
New York (UPI) — Accused gangland assassin William Triplet and 19-year-old Michael Huntington, who broke out of the Cook County Jail in Chicago last Wednesday, were captured by FBI agents here Friday night.

Rome (AP) — U.S. Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon appealed to booming West Europe Friday to help ease the dollar drain by looking for capital at home, instead of in the United States.

Reno, Nev. (AP) — Comedian Danny Kaye remained in St. Mary's Hospital here Friday apparently ill of virus pneumonia after missing the first show in his long entertainment career.

Tokyo (AP) — The Peiping People's Daily said Saturday that the dispatch of U.S. troops to Thailand represents a threat to Red China's security and that the move will not be ignored.

"China can absolutely not permit the establishment of a new military bridgehead aimed against her in an area near to Chinese territory," said an editorial quoted by Radio Peiping.

Washington (AP) — Reports that a long-range missile with a live nuclear warhead might be launched from California and detonated in the Pacific area brought noncommittal response from government agencies Friday.

Building-Ripper But Not Bulb-Breaker
The debris in the foreground—including the light bulb—was part of the barn in the background until a tornado struck. But though it ripped apart the building, the wind left the fragile bulb unbroken. The damage occurred on the Wendell Cornelius farm southeast of Ogallala, one of several hit by a twister.

PLUMLEY SEES HOPE FOR EASING OF KENNEDY-BUSINESS TENSIONS

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy's efforts to lighten the tax burden on business is bound to ease tensions created in the steel price showdown, the president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce said Friday.

H. Ladd Plumley, the new chamber head, made the comment after what he described as a most constructive hour-long chat with Kennedy at the White House.

A similar summation of the get-together was given to newsmen by presidential aide Andrew Hatcher, who said it was "useful and friendly . . . a constructive discussion."

Hatcher said both men acknowledged differences between the administration and business, but "both appreciate the need for a very close relationship between the government and the Chamber of Commerce."

Plumley, a Massachusetts insurance executive, became head of the chamber at its annual meeting here last month. It was at this session, which the President addressed, that Friday's meeting was arranged.

Kennedy's speech then was a conciliatory one following the use of massive government pressure to force down a steel price increase. But many individuals among the several thousand businessmen-delegates still expressed doubt and suspicion about the government's attitude toward business.

Oral Vaccine For 25 Cents: Polio Immunization Clinics Planned Here

The Lancaster County Medical Society has decided to sponsor a mass immunization program—to begin probably in about a month—with the Sabin oral polio vaccine.

Dr. Hobart Wallace, committee chairman, said the society hoped to reach 100,000 persons in Lancaster County with the immunization program, which requires 3 doses of vaccines at 6-week intervals.

The Public Health Service is seeking a 70% immunization with the Sabin vaccine, Dr. Wallace said, in the belief that this will nearly eradicate the disease.

Eliminates 'Carriers'
The Salk vaccine, with which many persons have been treated, is effective for general immunity but excludes the intestinal tract, Dr. Wallace said. However the Sabin vaccine attacks the disease in the intestinal tract, and therefore eliminates "carriers" of the disease.

Envisioned by the medical society are public service clinics, held on Sundays and staffed by volunteer doctors, at which the charge for each treatment would be only 25 cents.

Dr. Wallace said the clinics would probably be held on two successive Sundays for each of the 3 types of oral vaccine, at 6-week intervals.

Envisioned are clinics that would process up to 1,000 persons per hour, he said. The vaccination can be given simply, in a few drops in a lump of sugar or in a solution taken by spoon.

Dr. Wallace reported the medical society plans Monday to ask the School Board for permission to use school facilities for the clinics.

He said the vaccine would be bought in large quantities at considerable saving, and that the use of volunteer help would also reduce the cost. He said the society plans to donate any surplus funds, after costs are paid, to a local charity.

Boy Injured Slightly

Eight-year-old Richard E. Forrest of 2601 Scott was treated for cuts at Lincoln General Hospital and released Friday after he was injured in a car-pedestrian accident.

Police said the boy, who was running, was in collision with a fender on a car driven by David S. Zolot, 22, of 2700 Manse Ave., at Normal Blvd. and South.

Valuable Ring Lost

A diamond ring valued at more than $1,000 has been lost by Mrs. Roger L. Gohde of 1801 Brookhaven Dr., police reported Friday. The ring was described as white gold with a large center stone. It was lost somewhere downtown, police said, possibly in a department store.

Airman Remains Critical After Surgery To Hip

A.1.C. Cornealius Chadwell's dislocated right hip was reset in surgery Friday at Veterans Hospital, a spokesman reported.

The 25-year-old airman stationed near Picktown, S.D., was still listed in critical condition late Friday.

In addition to his hip injury, he suffered a broken right leg and ankle, plus chest injuries, when his car veered off U.S. Hwy. 34 at its junction with Neb. 79 approximately 8 miles northwest of Lincoln.

Chadwell's car landed up-right in Oak Creek where he remained undiscovered for 10 hours. Two Burlington Railroad employees found him.

Pete Seeger Contempt Case Is Thrown Out

New York (AP) — A Federal Appeals Court Friday threw out the contempt of Congress case against folk singer Pete Seeger, who was sentenced to prison when he refused to say whether he ever was a communist.

A 3-judge U.S. Court of Appeals panel not only rescinded the one-year prison sentence assessed against Seeger, but dismissed the contempt indictment against him as well.

Seeger, 43, is a guitar-playing entertainer who often appears at communist-sponsored events. He has boasted that "I never refused to sing for any organization because I disagreed with its beliefs."

In 1955, Seeger refused to tell the House Committee on Un-American Activities whether he was then or ever had been a communist. The committee at the time was inquiring into Red links within the entertainment world.

Rites Saturday For A. E. Henry

Pawnee City — Funeral services will be held here Saturday afternoon at the Wherry Mortuary for A. E. Henry, 84, former Pawnee County attorney.

Mr. Henry maintained his law practice here until being hospitalized 6 weeks ago after he fell and broke his hip. A former Pawnee City mayor, he was graduated from the University of Nebraska and Harvard Law School.

Surviving are his wife; daughter, Mrs. Gaylord Benz of Malibu Beach, Calif.; and two sisters.

Moslems Protest

Peshawar, Pakistan (AP) — Thousands of Moslems paraded the streets of Peshawar, chanting anti-Italian slogans. The procession started from the main city mosque as a protest against an Italian company's reported decision to film the life of the prophet of Islam, Mohammed. All shops and business firms remained closed.

JFK Urges Prayers For Peace And Justice

... ON APPROACHING MEMORIAL DAY

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy Friday proclaimed Wednesday, May 30, as Memorial Day, and called on Americans to pray "for a new world of law where peace and justice shall be assured for all."

Kennedy asked that the hour of 11 o'clock in the morning, in each locality, be set aside as the time to unite in the prayers.

His proclamation said the nation today faces a challenge "which demands of us the same virtues of loyalty, courage, and devotion to country that characterized our fallen heroes," and went on:

"Memorial Day each year provides a fitting occasion upon which Americans may not only pay tribute to our honored dead but also unite in prayer for success in our search for a just and lasting peace."

'Finian's Rainbow' Brightens Community Playhouse Stage

By MARGRETHE PLUM Star Staff Writer

That old devil moon shone bright on Lincoln's Community Playhouse Friday for the initial performance of "Finian's Rainbow."

The last show of the season, "Finian's Rainbow" has a cast of 44—one of the largest ever for the playhouse stage.

And the production marks the last one to be directed by Playhouse Manager-Director Bonna Tebo Hays, who concludes a two-year stay at the Playhouse this season.

The cast is led by Jocelyn Sack, graduate student in music at the University of Nebraska, Dick Hall, a product of Wesleyan University who is teaching in the DeWitt Public Schools and Gilbert J. "Joe" Salinas, who is making his 3rd Playhouse appearance.

Though in their first appearance at the Playhouse, Miss Sack, who plays Sharon, and Hall, who portrays Woody, have appeared in operas at Nebraska and Wesleyan.

In addition, Hall has appeared in Pinewood Bowl productions of "South Pacific" and "The King and I." Gilbert J. "Joe" Salinas as Finian introduces the charm of the Irish to the audience. The job is made easier for him by the appearance of Og, the leprechaun with "butterflies in his feet," portrayed by LeRoy Schoonover.

Sam Davidson, making his 5th Playhouse appearance, plays Senator Billboard Rawkins. Gail Ginsburg, is featured as the dancing Susan who communicates with "foottalk."

A highlight of the production is Lenora Letcher singing "Necessity" backed up by dancers Bessie Carpenter, Patsy Davidson, Barbara Moore and Peggy Stromer.

Musical director for "Finian's Rainbow" is Joyce Johnson, a graduate student in music at Nebraska, who along with Pamela Fields and John Miller are the orchestra for the singing and dancing.

The choreography—which includes no less than four dance routines for each of the 44 cast members—was directed by Mrs. Hays and Sandi Hefflefinger.

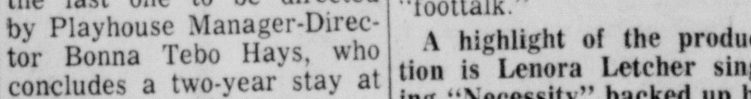

"Finian's Rainbow" will be presented Saturday and again May 22 through 27. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Murder Charge Is Filed

Jones Enters Innocent Plea

Norfolk (AP) — Fifty-year-old Henry Jones of Norfolk was charged with first degree murder Friday in the shooting of his neighbor across an alley, Clarence Schlecht, 53.

Jones appeared before Justice of the Peace Werner Muller and was ordered held without bail pending preliminary hearing. Jones pleaded innocent.

The charge was filed by Madison County Attorney Vincent Kirby.

Schlecht, who was shot either in the back or chest, died instantly, Dr. George Salter, county physician, said.

After the shooting, Jones got in his car and drove to the police station where he surrendered to officers saying: "I done it, I done it, I shot Clarence Schlecht." Police Chief Otis J. Knotwell reported.

Jones then handed Knotwell a bolt-action rifle and was lodged in the city jail.

Jones told Knotwell that he walked over to where Schlecht was mowing his back yard and started to talk with him. When Schlecht turned around, Jones said, he shot him. Knotwell said so far as he could learn there were no witnesses.

Mrs. Schlecht was in the house at the time.

Neighbors told police that Jones threatened to shoot Schlecht about a week ago. Knotwell said the two men had been feuding for years.

Jones operated a junk yard. The city last fall bought the property for $13,000. He still has not moved and was served with notice to move by May 23 or face further court action. Jones also lived on the property.

Schlecht was a cook in the Norfolk State Hospital. He is survived by his wife and a son, Clarence Schlecht, a one-time Norfolk police officer, currently serving a one to five year sentence in the State Reformatory for arson.

Rites Set For Crash Victim

Crete—Funeral services for Vladimir Spinar, 71, fatally injured in an auto crash southwest of here, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Kuntl Chapel.

County Coroner said Spinar, a Crete farmer, apparently blacked out before his car left the road. However, his death was the result of the accident, the coroner said.

Church Blaze Declared 'Set'

Arson was blamed by the state fire marshal's office Friday for the fire which badly damaged the basement of the First Presbyterian Church at Grand Island May 6.

"We're still looking for a lead or a motive that will point us to the culprit," said assistant state Fire Marshal G. E. Ekstrand.

Ekstrand said sheet music taken from a shelf was placed under wooden pews pushed together in a Sunday school room and that oil was squirted on the paper to give the fire a start. Oil came from a can taken from a furnace room which had been entered by the arsonist.

Suspect Arsonist In Albion Fire

Albion (UPI)—A fire which authorities believe was set by an arsonist caused $2,000 damage to the basement of the First Methodist Church here Friday.

Father, Doctor And Rescue Squad Credited With Saving Toddler's Life

Falls City (AP) — A 14-month-old boy was in good condition Friday thanks to his father, a physician and the fire department rescue squad.

It took the work of all of them to save the life of Anthony Kopf after the child fell into a stock tank at the Leonard Kopf farm home.

The boy was playing in the yard while his father was working nearby. When Anthony disappeared, Kopf searched and found him floating on top of the water. The boy had stopped breathing.

Kopf applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and the boy began breathing again.

Homestead's highest spot . . . site of Freeman graves overlooks prairie.

Freeman Minus Gun, Religion, Kin Recalls

By DEAN TERRILL

Southeast Nebraska Bureau Beatrice — A Bible under one arm, rifle under the other and an old sodbuster plow nearby begging for both to be put down.

History has accorded the American pioneer such a prototype, but the image is prairies apart from the real-life Nebraskan reputedly the nation's first homesteader. Daniel Freeman reportedly had no religion, shunned a gun like dreaded cholera and—his famed 160 acres notwithstanding—preferred almost anything to farming.

Such information doesn't come from the National Park Service, which admittedly knows only a few vague facts about Freeman personally. Rather, its source is perhaps the best personal acquaintance of Freeman still living—an 80-year-old son-in-law.

The Homestead Centennial observance starting this week end prompted Clifford Quackenbush's first visit to the monument since he and his wife relinquished it to the government 26 years ago. His 4½-mile trip from the Beatrice Good Samaritan Home brought many recollections of his wife's celebrated father, — but most of them as "our old neighbor I worked for from the time I was a kid."

"He wasn't a popular man, especially after he brought suit against the German Lutherans to quit Bible-reading in the public school," he reflected. "Old Daniel never worried about other people's opinions though, and finally won his case."

Married to the youngest of the 8 Freeman children, Agnes, namesake of her mother, Quackenbush recalled that it was Mrs. Freeman who was the family's real farmer. At least after the homestead was established, she even bossed the hired men who farmed "her" 520 acres in addition to the homestead land.

"Daniel had medical training and always practiced some, and if not doing that he'd be in town talking law or politics," the oldtimer recalled. "Eventually he moved to Beatrice, living at 1000 Lincoln street."

Freeman Ex-Sheriff

Apparently this was about the time the pioneer became Gage County sheriff, a job recalled as lasting but a term or two. He assumed the duties, Quackenbush added, despite the fact "he probably never shot a gun in his life, even to hunt."

Freeman did fit perfectly the popularized idea of a be-whiskered frontiersman, and is sometimes referred to on monument tours as "the Moses of the Plains." Quackenbush said the white flowing beard is among his most vivid memories of the renowned landowner.

The son-in-law and daughter made their home with Mrs. Freeman several years after she was left a widow, then inherited over half the homestead's 160 acres. Quackenbush farmed the place until surrendering it to the government in 1936 ("They only paid $112 when land was selling for $150 an acre.")

Family Data Lost

Fire destroyed a brick house belonging to Mrs. Freeman in 1916, and loss of personal possessions thus deprived the Park Service of much family data. All 8 of the Freeman children (two from an early marriage) are deceased, and the Beatrice man believes he is the only in-law living.

What about the legendary explanation, never confirmed by Army records, that Freeman was a soldier on furlough when he filed his homestead claim?

"I never heard a word about it from him, and don't believe he ever claimed to have been in the Army," observed Quackenbush. "He wasn't much for display, and said little about being the first homesteader."

Following his death at age 82 in 1908, Freeman's request was carried out to bury him on the homestead's highest spot, overlooking wooded Cub Creek and the farm since returned to native grass. His wife, who died in 1931, was laid alongside.

Persons touring the monument are told it was from here that the old homesteader often reviewed his land choice. His legendary summation:

"Best darned piece of land in Gage County!"

Gordon Youth Drowns In Lake At Hot Springs

Hot Springs, S.D. (AP) — Jackie Lee Palmer, 20, of Gordon, Neb., drowned in Angostura Lake south of here while attempting to swim ashore after the boat in which he was riding capsized.

Authorities said Palmer and Frank Buresh of Batesland, S.D. were in a boat with Anita Hanad and June Edkinson, both of Hot Springs, when the boat capsized. The two girls were wearing the only two life jackets in the boat.

After the boat overturned the 4 first attempted to push it to shore, then abandoned it and started to swim. Palmer went down. His body was recovered by 3 highway patrolmen and special deputy who is a skin diver.

Nibler Among 5 Nebraskans Given Awards From USDA

Washington (AP) — The Agriculture Department, 100 years old this year, announced Friday awards to 129 employees, 5 of them Nebraskans.

Some of the awards were presented in ceremonies on the grounds of the Washington Monument.

Recipients of superior service awards were:

Hermion I. Nibler, director of poultry division of Agricultural Marketing Service, Washington.

C. W. Nibler, Cooperative Extension Service, Lincoln, Neb.

Howard C. Paine, native of Oxford, Neb., controller's division, Rural Electrification Administration, Washington.

Dr. Orville A. Vogel, native of Stanton County, Neb., with Agricultural Research Service at Pullman, Wash.

Irvin F. Reed, native of Orchard, Neb., with Agricultural Research Service, Auburn, Ala.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman cited Nibler "for his dynamic leadership, spirit of co-operation and organizational ability, which contributed greatly to the sustained growth of the dairy industry and improved relationships among dairy interests."

Nibler joined the University's staff in 1929 as an instructor in dairy husbandry.

Hervert Assumes Diabetes Office

Omaha (AP) — Dr. J. William Hervert, Lincoln physician, has taken office as president of the Nebraska Diabetes Association.

Dr. Robert Haney of Omaha was named the 1963 president-elect.

Other 1962 officers include Dr. Gordon Gibbs of Omaha, first vice president; Dr. Robert Schlabaugh of Omaha, second vice president, and Dr. Thomas Skillman of Omaha, secretary.

Dr. William Dickerson of Omaha is retiring president.

Association members, at the annual meeting, reported a need for greater education of the public on the availability of tests for diabetes.

He later served as County Extension Agent in Kimball and Scotts Bluff Counties.

Since assuming his present post as Extension dairyman in 1946, Nibler has built a broad, yet intensive program aimed at increasing the productivity of cows in Nebraska and, ultimately, the well-being of all persons and groups involved in the dairy industry.

LINCOLN UNIT RECOGNIZED

Washington — The 80-employee cartographic unit of the Soil Conservation Service in Lincoln, Neb., was among employee groups and individuals chosen by the Department of Agriculture for special honors Friday.

The department gave its prized superior service award to SCS' Cartographic Division, citing its long-sustained output of heavy volumes of high quality work.

Serving as head of the Lincoln cartographic unit is Joseph T. Casey.

The Cartographic Division is the map-making, drafting and photo-reproduction arm of the Soil Conservation Service.

Iowan Killed, Wife Hurt In Omaha Crash

Omaha (AP) — Woodrow J. Sawchyn, 46, Council Bluffs, Ia., was killed and his wife seriously hurt Thursday in a car-truck crash in South Omaha.

Accident Investigator James Perry said Sawchyn's car, apparently traveling at a high rate of speed, smashed broadside into the rear of a semi-trailer truck halted at a stop light.

The empty flatbed truck was driven by Marvin Lee Adams, 27, Emerson, Ia. The top of the auto was nearly sheared off and Sawchyn and his wife, Carrie, 42, suffered severe head injuries.

The death raised the state highway fatality toll for the year to 98 compared with 111 a year ago.

Where And What The Fault

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The past week has been one to ponder the nature and source of our area's shortcomings. In a recent issue of Business Week, there is a story which tells of the bright future in store for the West and Southwest as expanding industry floods into areas of constant temperate climate. Says Business Week in summary: "The Great Lakes region's rate of growth will also fail to match the national average, and its share of the national population and employment will trend downward."

"The Plains region will show a similar story — a declining share in national population and manufacturing employment." Nebraska being in the plains region, the story is not a very heartening one for us.

Conservative Brand

Not long ago in another magazine, the state of Nebraska as such was wiped off the face of the continent as an example of the amount of farm land needed to be retired to bring production and consumption into balance. In the past week the people of this area of the state failed to support adequately a candidate for Congress who was beaten by perhaps the most ultra-conservative official now holding a major public office in this whole land.

Nominees for election to the Legislature in November included practically all of those incumbents who are again seeking office. These are incumbents from a Legislature which drastically cut appropriations for the University of Nebraska and many other state agencies.

Here in Lincoln the voters turned down a program of urban renewal that is winning converts daily in cities throughout the nation. And on the campus of the University of Nebraska, the resignation pot was boiling as the head of the physics department left the institution in disgust. He was followed by four other faculty members, including three young and prominent members of the Economics Department.

All of this could hardly leave one complacent. The university's administration has not joined the denunciation of the institution leveled by some of the departing faculty. It could not do so even if it felt as these faculty members do. Politically it would be cutting its own throat to toss in the towel and this, in effect, is what the faculty exodus amounts to, whether the reasons for it are right or wrong. The administration at the university should not be expected to agree that the whole place and the entire state are going to the dogs at breakneck speed. Its job is to recognize the problems that exist and do its best to overcome them. This isn't done by surrendering. And it would be well if all of us kept this thought in mind. The fellow who pulls out hasn't solved anything. There is nothing wrong with his leaving but it is victory for that to which he is opposed. This, of course, still doesn't mean that certain things are not discouraging. What it does mean is that those who have a real interest in the state of Nebraska and a real concern for its future need to rededicate themselves to the pursuit of constructive objectives. They need to seek out the nature of the problem as they see it and try to solve it. What the problem is will not be an easy thing to determine. Some, in fact, will not even agree that there is any problem.

Those in the latter group can make their case as they see fit and in whatever manner suits them. It is not a position with which we can agree. One question, then, that immediately comes up is what the problem is. This is relatively easy to answer. The problem is the failure of our area to share in the future of the nation by growing with it.

While a problem is easy to see, its implications are not always so clear to people. It is a little hard for the average citizen to see how he is affected by the day-to-day and year-to-year life of his state and community. Whatever happens, he seems to live about the same and he comes to accept the pattern of his life and to grow vague in any personal association with the rest of his area.

But failure to grow means failure to improve. It means no new jobs for our children, no new homes and businesses to help in the tax load, no improvement in existing salaries and all that these three things stand for. What they stand for is a constant struggle in all areas of public service and a stagnation of everyone's standard of living. Why do we have this problem? Our political leadership has been weak and this is an important factor and one not about to be solved by the offering in November. But more than that, the problem is the product of the thinking and attitude of the people.

The big job, then is to make every effort to acquaint the people with the facts of what is happening, to convince them that the times demand sacrifice for constructive action. This is a job that must be shared by many and the challenge that faces those who refuse to admit that the end of things for us has already been sighted. To lament the state of affairs may not be out of order but it won't help matters much.

Outgrowth Of Attitude

Misjudging Symptoms

The concern of some that the recent weakness of the stock market presages a business depression is getting more of its fuel from anxiety than fact. Thus far the market is correcting itself by bringing stock prices closer in line with real values and real earnings. The pursuit of capital gains was too much of a factor.

When one probes deeper than the stock market, business and industry, by and large, though not enjoying a boom year are nevertheless doing solid business and making profit. They are producing and serving goods and the consumers are buying. Depressions are not fashioned out of such conditions.

Business Week, magazine devoted to business, shed light on another phenomenon of the current economy which on the surface could cause concern, albeit without good reason. It noted that bank loans to business and industry are down. Banks are experiencing an increase in lending but to other borrowers. But it is not poor business that is causing the decline.

As Business Week sees it, the reasons are not hard to find. Businesses each week are adding more and more new facilities that are eligible for fast tax depreciation. In addition corporate profits in the aggregate rose dramatically last year while dividend payments didn't keep pace.

Business Week concludes that it is capital from retained earnings and the cash flow from depreciation that is financing the modernization and expansion, rather than bank loans.

Certainly this is anything but an unhealthy situation and in no manner can it be adjudged as a symptom of declining business.

Not Proud Of It

The U.S. House of Representatives acted shabbily when it rejected an appropriation of $73 million representing the final sum needed to pay Philippine war damage claims.

The reaction in the Philippines is one of dismay and outrage, understandably enough because it amounts to faith breaking.

While a sense of gratitude existed, the Congress passed the Philippine Rehabilitation Act in 1946 and thus far has lived up to it. The act recognized that the Philippines remained deeply loyal to the United States and for it lived to see the homeland plowed up by Japanese aggression — a convenient battle field between two great assailants. It also lived under grinding Japanese occupation and then was battered again as U.S. forces returned to effect liberation. Meantime, brave Filipinos conducted effective underground war against Japan.

Editorial Of The Day

Withholding Under Attack

From The St. Louis Post-Dispatch

The Administration is making a concerted effort to stave off an attack on its dividend withholding plan, which has passed the House but which faces trouble in the Senate. President Kennedy opened his press conference last week with a strong plea for the program, and Secretary of the Treasury Dillon offered the Senate

The Rehabilitation Act acknowledged this and pledged funds sufficient to repay up to 75 per cent all established claims for war damage. There are still 86,000 unsettled claims and the U.S. obligation is a little more than two thirds discharged.

It is true that the U.S. has devoted in the neighborhood of one billion dollars to foreign aid to the Philippines. But that cannot be considered an offset for war claims. The foreign aid has strengthened the Philippines as a vital ally in Southeast Pacific and has defense connotations of incalculable value to the United States itself. It cannot be considered either a gratuity or a sufficient credit against war losses which were suffered by individuals rather than by government. The House is dead wrong. The only good thing about it is that its decision will not in the long run be fatal to U.S. justice.

Finance Committee a few concessions designed to ease passage.

The Kennedy plan calls for a 20 per cent tax withholding on dividends and some interest; failure of some taxpayers to report this type of income now costs the Treasury upwards of $800,000,000 a year. Under the House-approved plan taxpayers liable for less than 20 per cent, or not liable for any tax, could get exemptions or refunds. Mr. Dillon proposed making it easier for taxpayers to claim refunds and exemptions.

Whether this will sweeten the legislation enough to gain the approval of Senator Byrd of Virginia, chairman of the Finance Committee, will be known toward the end of June. Meanwhile, if the Administration can devise additional procedures to reduce hardships it might help. Mr. Kennedy's explanation of the bill was generalized and while it undoubtedly was correct there are enough exceptions and complications to provide effective ammunition for opponents.

The President said — contrary to some claims — that "more enforcement, more education, more electronic brains cannot do the job." If there is no way to do the job except through the Administration plan, then there is no alternative to accepting it. As the President said, the evaded taxes must be made up by other taxpayers. And this is unfair. At best there is likely to be some hardship and a good deal of red tape. Any method of minimizing the deficiencies should be thoroughly explored.

"It's All The Work Of The Communists— Who Don't Exist Under Our Regimes"

DREW PEARSON

Estes Political Influence Flops

WASHINGTON — The tracks of Billie Sol Estes, the mercurial Texan, run into very unusual places. If by any chance you were at the funeral of the late Speaker Sam Rayburn, you would have noted the fly-by-night millionaire from Texas hovering not far from President Kennedy, ex-president Truman and ex-President Eisenhower.

He was inside the enclosure set off for the Rayburn family and the top officials of the nation, who had come to mourn. Doubtless, the President and the ex-presidents did not know he was there, but he was.

The real secret of Billie Sol Estes' success is the American political system in which money talks in political campaigns and later expects to be paid off. This is especially true in the state of Texas, second biggest in the union, with a tremendous area for a candidate to cover and with a lot of oil money thrown into the political pot behind certain candidates.

Billie Sol Estes was a young man, generous with the campaign dough for various candidates, and the dough now turns out to have belonged to someone else.

Thus, when Sen. Ralph

Yarborough called a meeting of friends to say that he was being blacked out by the big Texas city newspapers and wanted to start a radio information campaign to reach the people, Billie Sol Estes coughed up. So did various others.

Today, money is talking big in another Texas campaign, the race for governor between ex-Secretary of the Navy John Connally, Lyndon Johnson's friend, and Don Yarborough, a friend of Senator Yarborough but no relation.

Money is flowing into this campaign almost like oil flows through the pipelines of Texas, and a lot of contributors will expect to get paid off politically afterward. In fact, it looks as if some of them were getting helpful contracts already. Note the contract given Brown and Root to build the Space Agency outside Houston, and remember that Brown and Root have been the heaviest contributors to Lyndon Johnson in the past and that he is No. 1 executive in the Kennedy administration space activities.

But you can write it down that there is no rivalry between the Texans over Billie Sol Estes today.

DORIS FLEESON

Estes Probe Great Committee Test

WASHINGTON—Billie Sol Estes and his silent partners, farm policy, Agriculture Department administration of it and congressional toleration of abuses known to be occurring, will go on trial soon.

The list of codefendants, none of whom can be omitted from any real investigation, is impressive.

There is the Texas layman who is charged with defrauding corporations of millions and suborning public officials to a number and degree still undetermined.

There is the policy designed to lift the living standards of the individual farmer which, through the years, has been so transformed that the major part of the funds appropriated for that purpose is flowing into the pockets of the big operators.

There is the department which got bigger and bigger as the farmers got fewer and fewer and which spent more each year merely to store surpluses of farm products.

President Kennedy has talked strongly in private about the situation. His tension and tone of voice as he performed what might be called a standard political holding rite showed plainly his irritation.

He defended Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman as a person, promised to punish evil-doers and pledged that this "most unfortunate and regrettable" situation would be cleared up. Even there, a rasp in his voice gave clue to his reaction.

Kennedy has been digging into the situation. This appeared when he mentioned not only the McClellan investigating subcommittee of the Senate, but also the Fountain subcommittee of the House which has for a long time been calling attention to flagrant abuses of the feed-grain program.

Sen. John L. McClellan has said he would subpoena Estes and hold public hearings. In a very real sense, the new probe represents a challenge to that subcommittee.

It gained, and for the chairman especially, a fine and deserved reputation when it exposed labor racketeering. This was an area where the predominantly rural and small-town members of the subcommittee had everything to gain and very little to lose.

In dealing with agriculture, its abuses and misdoings, the same members must strike into territory important to its own political interests and populated by its closest congressional friends. The subcommittee:

Chairman McClellan of Camden, Ark.; Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Everett, Wash.; Samuel J. Ervin Jr. of Morganton, N.C.; Edmund S. Muskie of Waterville, Me., all Democrats, and Sen. Karl E. Mundt of Madison, S.D., and Carl T. Curtis of Minden, Neb., Republicans.

The ranking five Democrats of the agriculture committee are all southerners: Chairman Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina, Spessard L. Holland of Florida, James O. Eastland of Mississippi and Herman Tamm of Georgia. The Republican minority includes Milton R. Young of North Dakota, Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa and Mundt himself.

ON TARGET

By DON WALTON

Nebraska Republicans appear to be headed for their first sweep of state and national offices since 1956.

Yep, we know, it's too early to say. It's a long, long time until November and Democrats aren't about to throw in the towel yet. They shouldn't.

A smart campaign on behalf of an appealing nominee could produce a surprise here and there. The tables could be turned in a few cases during the next 6 months.

For example: two months ago, we think, Phil Weaver was ahead of Ralph Beermann.

Another: four months ago, we believe, Fred Seaton wouldn't have attracted a united Republican vote at the primary polls.

Victory is not manufactured in major state and congressional contests. The ingredients of triumph are a mixture of candidate, campaign, cash — and hard work.

Democrats still have a good chance of retaining the governorship, and they can't be counted out of two congressional races yet.

But, otherwise the Democratic picture looks hopeless. Let's take a quick capsule look:

Governor: No great pocket

et of GOP discontent with Fred Seaton appeared in his primary romp; Governor Morrison will have to woo Republican votes in November to beat Seaton. Thus, if Seaton's general election campaign continues to hold GOP'ers in line, he's in.

At the same time, no one would deny that Morrison is a formidable opponent. He ran extremely well in the Democratic primary, is hard to beat on the street. He runs best as an underdog — and he is far from out of it yet.

Congress, First District: Ralph Beermann is on the rise in Nebraska politics after his primary triumph; party buffs already have an eye on him for a U.S. Senate post in the future.

Beermann beat Phil Weaver in what was essentially a conservative-moderate showdown. Democrat Clair Callan is more liberal than was Weaver, and if the campaign hinges again on political philosophy, Beermann looks solid.

Lincoln — The area most badly hurt by reapportionment (you might say it was almost disfranchised) — May go with Callan. But Lincoln also went with Weaver.

Congress, Second District: Tom Bonner is an attractive personality with much of that New Frontier vigor. He's going to make a lot of noise up Omaha way.

But, Glenn Cunningham has run stronger in each succeeding election since he went to Congress in 1956. He's a heavy favorite.

Congress, Third District: Rep. Dave Martin vs. John A. Hoffman of Clearwater. No contest.

Other State Officers: Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney, Secretary of State Frank Marsh and State Auditor Ray Johnson might as well save their money. State Treasurer Clarence L. E. Swanson, Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer and Railway Commissioner Wayne Swanson won't need to spend much.

Okay, that appears to be the picture as of May 19. Argue if you will that it won't be accurate in November; we didn't say that it would.

On March 7, the Star carried a front-page story which emanated from supporters of Ralph Beermann.

It suggested that Beermann could win the primary by capturing just 15% of the Lincoln vote. Jack Schuetz and other Beermann aides were so right.

Lancaster County's total unofficial Republican congressional primary vote was 17,988. Fifteen per cent would have given Beermann 2,698 votes, or 2,459 fewer than he actually polled in this county.

Divide the 2,459 among Weaver, Bob Harrison and Bill Swearingen in the same ratio in which they received total Lancaster votes. This gives Weaver 1,503 more votes.

The amazing results: Beermann, 27,240; Weaver, 26,944. Beermann would have won the election by just 296 votes if he had received 15% of the Lincoln vote.

Schuetz, you're a mathematical wizard.

Urban Renewal Vote

Lincoln, Neb. Percentage-wise only six per cent of Lincoln's 112 precincts voted in favor of the proposed urban renewal authority. Strangely enough, these precincts are located in the southeast areas of the city and could not be involved in or in any possible need of such an authority. The other 94 per cent of Lincoln's precincts voted in great numbers against any implementation of an autonomous authority, either tax-wise or otherwise.

LEO N. BARTUNEK

Come No More

Hastings, Neb. Inasmuch as R. L. Kaliff of York opposes planned economy and wants "freedom" in making his choice, he no doubt voices the opinion of other farm folks.

I do not know of any freedom any farmer has lost. He is not forced to accept any farm plan. He is a free man to do as he pleases on a common level. If, however, he wishes to go beyond a common level and gain economic support for the things he sells, he must subscribe to the economic status. Now, what is wrong with that?

The trouble with that kind of farmer is that he wants what the other fellow gets without complying with the conditions that produced it! That is an unreasonable and uncalled-for attitude for any fair-minded farmer to ask for.

Kaliff says he is not for any planned economy. He is for free enterprise. Well, does he not know that every depression this country ever had came when free enterprise sat in the saddle? In other words, Kaliff is ready and willing for depressions to rage again, as they did under Hoover, Teddy Roosevelt and Cleveland. What a man for punishment!

I have witnessed and suffered from all of these depressions and I do not want to see any more of them. The cries of distress that I saw then and witnessed, I never want to see again.

CECIL E. MATTHEWS

Do-Nothing State

Lincoln, Neb. Ignorance and apathy win again! If the people of Nebraska question the steady exodus of college graduates and Nebraska's third-rate status among the states of the nation, they will find their answer in the attitude that brought about the rejection of the urban renewal program in Lincoln on May

15. Swayed by appeals to emotion, those voters who defeated urban renewal were blind to the necessity for and the benefits of such a program. Consider:

(1) From 1950 to 1960, slum areas increased 60 per cent in Lincoln.

(2) As taxes were reduced in these depreciated areas, there was a corresponding rise of taxes on those homes that were maintained and repaired.

(3) The majority of the homes in the blighted areas are rental properties and their condition is a direct result of the negligence of the landlord, not the person occupying the dwelling.

This is a problem for which an immediate solution is needed. These depreciated areas and the people who live in them are being exploited for the money they bring the investor. Those who ignore the necessity for a check on this downhill process apparently favor the rights of a few to exploit the many.

This pathetic "do-nothing" attitude has invaded every area of Nebraska life and the state is becoming an educational and cultural wasteland, as evidenced by the recent resignation of Dr. Chas. head of the University of Nebraska's physics department. Lack of pay increases and incentive pay has robbed the university of many outstanding professors during the past year and promises to erode further the underpinnings of an otherwise fine institution.

Apathy, neglect, fear, inability to see or face existing problems — these are the leading qualities of Nebraska voters. The air of progress is so much sweeter to the east and to the west. Must the stench of localism, conservatism and decay constantly fill the Nebraska air?

DISGUSTED NU SENIOR

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb. The Lincoln Unit No. 3 American Legion Auxiliary wishes to thank The Star for the fine publicity given this organization through the year on monthly announcements and special events.

We would also like to take this opportunity to thank the Lincoln citizens who supported and helped to make Poppy Day a success. It was with such contributions that we will be allowed to realize a great year ahead for child welfare and rehabilitation service to the Lincoln veteran and his family.

MRS. JOHN HORSTMAN Unit President

They Meant 'No'

Lincoln, Neb. Why doesn't Mr. Enersen start by spending his time tearing down the house where he lives and building a fireproof structure which would house, besides his own family, two or three families from these dilapidated places, and charge them the same rent as they are paying now?

This would be convincing proof of his sincerity and concern for these unfortunate families.

The voters didn't vote "no" because they didn't understand the issues. They voted "no" because they meant "no."

Trades Insurance Job For Culinary Career At 50

By ROBERT PETERSON

Two or three times a month I develop a passion for spaghetti. But I've found it's quite a trick finding a place in Boynton Beach, Fla., which infuses this great Italian delicacy with its full mouth-watering potential.

It was thus a thrill the other evening to encounter a fledgling restaurateur whose spaghetti is not only memorable but whose middle-age switch of careers adds up to an inspiring tale.

"I got into this business just 7 years ago," said Luigi Mirisola, 57, the wiry, brown-eyed boniface presiding over this area's most popular spaghetti palace.

"I'd been in life insurance for 28 years and worked my way up to a district managership in Boston. But I harbored a dream of someday moving to a mild climate and starting a cafe. I loved to fix spaghetti for my friends and my wife made the world's best meat sauce.

"When I was 50 years old we took a Florida vacation and happened to see a rundown cafe for rent. It had just one room with tables, plus a kitchen and tiny living quarters in the rear.

"My old dream came into focus and, after talking it over with my wife, we decided to strike out on a brand new career. I went back to Boston, resigned my position, sold our home, took our savings of $7,000, moved here, and rented the cafe for $165 a month."

He said things were rough at first. From the outside their place looked like just another hash house along the Dixie highway. Not many motorists were inclined to stop. But thanks to excellent food and immaculate cleanliness the little cafe slowly built up a clientele.

Their big break came 4 years ago. A local connoisseur of Italian food began dropping into the cafe regularly. One night he proposed a partnership and offered to secure financing to build a handsome new restaurant.

"I can still hardly believe it," said Luigi as we stood surveying the emporium he now heads with its 4 dining rooms, paneled walls, soft lights, and a real Italian patio with tinkling fountain. Everyone of its 200 seats was filled and customers were waiting at the door.

"I've finally found my real niche, and I'm actually making more money than ever before. We're even considering a nationwide chain of Italian restaurants. Some of it was luck, but I think most of our success can be attributed to the "better mousetrap" principle. My wife and I knew nothing about the restaurant business but we knew how to make delicious food and we insisted on high standards. This, plus our determination to succeed, proved a winning formula."

Although Luigi chose an occupation rated as having the highest mortality of all forms of business, the fact that he rang the bell starting at the age of 50 gives evidence of man's vocational versatility and the possibilities inherent in one's mature years.

Hearst Will Attend NU Journalism Awards Banquet

The University of Nebraska School of Journalism will hold its annual awards banquet Saturday.

In addition to the many scholarships and awards to be presented to students, the banquet is being held to salute "depth reporting," the course work originated by R. Neale Copple, associate professor of Journalism. The course was responsible for the school's receiving the national Hearst Foundation Award.

Randolph Hearst, president of the Foundation, and two other foundation executives, Ira P. Walsh and Bill Culbertson, will be guests of honor.

Don Carter, managing editor of the National Observer and formerly executive director of the Newspaper Fund, Inc., of the Wall Street Journal, will be the main speaker.

State Supreme Court Reverses Douglas County Court Action

The State Supreme Court Friday reversed a Douglas County District Court decision denying a Douglas County couple damages for injuries incurred when their car was struck by a Douglas County Sheriff's automobile.

Mrs. Nadene L. Hammon charged in the action that Wilkie Larue Pedigo, a Douglas County Deputy Sheriff, was guilty of negligence in the collision.

The action had been filed against Pedigo and Douglas County Sheriff Patrick E. Corrigan.

The latter two asserted that Mrs. Hammon and her husband were negligent in failing to keep a proper lookout for emergency automobiles. They said the siren was sounding and the flashing red light was in operation prior to the accident.

In the opinion Friday, the court said that there is evidence from which a jury might find that Pedigo was driving the sheriff's car at an unreasonable and improper rate of speed under the circumstances.

The court concluded that the evidence is sufficient to submit the case to a jury for final determination.

In other action the court upheld a Dodge County District Court decision denying an injunction to compel a Dodge County man to restore a road ditch.

The action had been filed by Glenn E. Wells against Norman H. Miller.

Wells charged that Miller had deepened an existing drainage ditch and that as a result of the deepening, additional flood waters flowed onto his land.

Law Enforcement Institute Begins

The 9th annual Nebraska Law Enforcement Institute will begin at the University of Nebraska Monday and continue through Friday.

The institute will be held at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

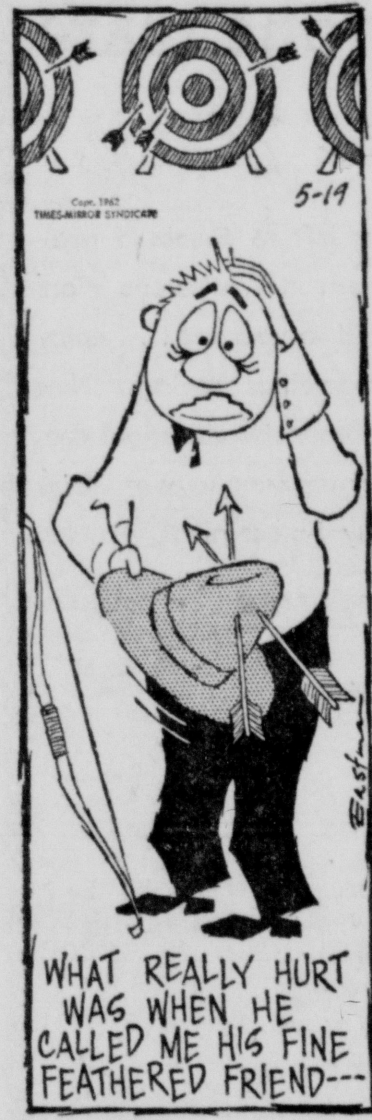

A highlight of the presentations will be a clinic on counterfeit currency Tuesday conducted by Henry Cohen, Jerome P. Dolan and Lawrence Short, all special agents of the U.S. Secret Service.

The institute, sponsored by the Police Officers Association of Nebraska and the University's sociology department, is open to all law enforcement officers and other interested persons.

Study Of State's Search, Seizure Laws Urged By Meyer

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Attorney General Clarence Meyer Friday urged the Nebraska Judicial Council to study and recommend changes in state laws on procedure in search and seizure of evidence in light of U.S. Supreme Court decisions rendered last year.

Unless the state's present laws on the subject are revised to conform with the rulings of the Court, "it could lead to a bad law enforcement situation in Nebraska," he said.

Under the Mapp vs. Ohio and Marcus search and seizure cases decided by the Court last year, evidence cannot be used which is acquired by search without a proper warrant.

No Warrant Required

Nebraska was among the 26 states which previously had permitted the introduction of evidence in its courts which had been obtained without a proper search warrant.

The state "now has about 9 months lead time on defense lawyers," Meyer commented, but steps must be taken to set up a guide for law enforcement officers or serious trouble can result.

Joe R. Seacrest, editor of The Lincoln Journal, also appeared before the Council on search and seizure pertaining to obscenity laws.

He urged that if legislation is drafted, allowances should be made for the differences between types of evidence obtained.

He recommended against allowing mass seizure of allegedly obscene material, stating that such would constitute suppression of free speech. He suggested that only samples of evidence should be obtained until determination of its obscenity is made.

The Council agreed to have a subcommittee make the requested study. Chairman Edward F. Carter, Nebraska Supreme Court Justice, named Lester Stiner of Hastings chairman of the subcommittee, whose members include Meyer, Dale Fahrbruch and Flavel Wright, all of Lincoln, and Harry Hentsch of Omaha.

Dean David Dow of the University of Nebraska Law College reported on uniform rules of evidence studies.

Charles Adams of Aurora reported on his subcommittee's study of the state's extradition laws. The Council directed the group to continue its study with the objective of adopting the Uniform Extradition Act as it suits Nebraska.

Judge H. Emerson Kokjer of Wahoo reported on Uniform Record on Appeals and Sen. Joe Vosoba of Wilber reported on the need for uniformity in appeals from state administrative agencies.

Appeals Study

The problem of uniformity of appeals from the Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Court also was discussed, and a subcommittee was named to study it.

A delegation headed by John Samson of Omaha appeared to advise the Council that studies are being undertaken on possible changes needed in the state's Juvenile Court Act.

Samson asked whether the Council might appoint an attorney to study the act, but was advised that the Nebraska Bar Assn. should make such an appointment.

If the study shows that procedural changes are needed in the Act, the Council will then consider aiding in drafting the revisions for action by the 1963 Legislature.

'Goodbyes' In Service Circles

BY TISSIE LINSCHIED

A farewell canape and buffet dinner party will be held at the Officers Club tonight in honor of Col. and Mrs. V. L. Hastings who soon will depart for Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio. The festivities will begin at 7 o'clock, and each lady will be presented with a corsage. Col. Hastings was the Commander of the Site Activation Task Force of the Offutt-Lincoln area.

Another party will be held at the Green Room of the Officers Club when the 307th Standardization Board has a farewell canape and dinner party for three couples who will be departing LAFB and the organization. The guests of honor will be Maj. and Mrs. William Montgomery who will leave on Thursday for Carswell AFB, Tex. and B-58 transition school; Capt. and Mrs. Lawrence Boggess who will also be going to B-58s, and Capt. and Mrs. Earl Buys who will be going into missiles.

Last evening at the Officers Club at the Air Force ROTC Staff and Senior cadets held a pre-commissioning canape and dinner party. This was an enjoyable evening for all those attending.

The 344th Bomb Squadron officers and their ladies have some fun hour in store for them this evening when they meet at the Emerald Lanes for an evening of bowling and bridge for the non-bowlers. The evening will be topped off with a pizza party.

Sunday evening a group of friends will have an impromptu farewell party in honor of Maj. and Mrs. William Montgomery at the Officers Club.

Miss Sandra Joan Green, daughter of M.Sgt. and Mrs. Lee I. Green was married last evening to A2C Raymond Jenkins. The ceremony took place at the Lincoln.

A farewell canape and potluck buffet dinner party was held last evening at the residence of Maj. and Mrs. Marvin F. Pelletier. The party was in honor of four couples who will be leaving LAFB in June for new assignments. The honored guests were Lt. Col. and Mrs. Richard G. McAuliffe, Capt. and Mrs. John B. Mattioli, Capt. and Mrs. Clifford Bilek and Capt. and Mrs. Leslie W. Walrath. The couples "hosting" the evening of fun were Lt. Col. and Mrs. John M. Crook, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Leo A. Shulgin, Maj. and Mrs. Robert Dorothy, Maj. and Mrs. Bruce Mills, Maj. and Mrs. Charles Ness, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Schisler, Capt. and Mrs. William Reeves, Capt. and Mrs. Warren Ohrvall and Capt. and Mrs. Charles Takacs.

The 818th Air Division and Combat Support Group, and the Medical Group held a farewell brunch in honor of Mrs. Thomas G. Corbin, Thursday morning at the Officers Club. The tables were decorated with gay

There always is so much activity in Suburbia that it is difficult to know where to begin. Suburbia, of course, is one of our favorite places — It is there you find real neighborliness—the kind that involves turn-about daytime baby sitting; neighborhood bridge clubs; neighborhood picnics — neighborhood coffees, and there always is a warm welcome for someone who is new in the neighborhood.

In addition to the welcomes, there are also farewells. We found one of those in—

PRAIRIE HILLS

It seems that Dr. and Mrs. Richard Todd and their family are moving to Colorado Springs, and on Friday Mrs. Gordon Larson paid courtesy to Mrs. Todd when she entertained at luncheon at her home. Luncheon places were arranged for eight.

We suspect that the members of Mrs. John McElhaney's bridge eight some were pleasantly surprised when they received honest-to-goodness invitations for bridge club this week. Mrs. McElhaney decided to do something a bit different — She had a basement "bistro" party, and the invitations said — "Voulez-vous Jouer au Cartes?" When the bridge group arrived the members found the recreation room decked with posters from Paris and other notable French spots, and the Parisian atmosphere was further introduced in the decor for the tables—and even to some of the furnishings.

Prairie Hills neighbors are looking forward to Memorial Day, and the neighborhood picnic which is to be held in the garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zean Carney.

This particular group of neighbors spend three holidays together — Memorial Day, the Fourth of July and Labor Day—and always with a picnic. Please don't think that these are the usual fried-chicken-potato-salad affairs. They aren't. Something very different is planned for each occasion, and we hear that the Zean Carneys will be preparing a suckling pig for the Memorial Day affair.

On hand will be 30 neighbors, plus some former Prairie Hills residents.

If you read the papers you already know that there was a state P.E.O. meeting in Lincoln this week.

Last Tuesday Mrs. John McElhaney had some out of town guests for luncheon—her mother, Mrs. J. B. Douglas, Jr.; her grandmother, Mrs. Paul Naeve, and Mrs. Warren Ingersoll, all of Tecumseh, who came to Lincoln for the P.E.O. sessions. Mrs. Ingersoll, by the way, is a 50-year member of P.E.O.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

We know one small girl in Kessler Heights who is counting the hours until tomorrow. She is Julie Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Thomas, who will be four years old on Sunday.

In celebration of the anniversary there is to be a family dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will be host and hostess at their home. In addition to Julie's immediate family, which includes her brother, Michael, and her sister, Michelle, the guest list will be composed of Julie's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Thomas, and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Edith Arvanette, all of Hastings; and her aunt and cousin, Mrs. Stephen Paul and her daughter, Cris, of DeSoto, Mo.

Mrs. Paul and her daughter plan to remain in Lincoln for a few days following the birthday celebration.

Kessler Heights rolled out the red carpet for Miss Lisa Michelle Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley L. Peters, who arrived at St. Elizabeth Hospital on Monday, May 7. Miss Lisa now is at home with her three older sisters, Jennifer, Melanie and Laura.

There are neighborhood bridge groups in Kessler Heights, too, and one of them will be meeting next Thursday afternoon when Mrs. A. T. Hinds entertains the members at a dessert luncheon which will precede an afternoon of cards.

There are some brand new neighbors in the Kessler Heights area, so we hear. They are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Schmidt and their three daughters, who moved into the neighborhood on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt and their family have been residing in Omaha, and came to Lincoln because of Mr. Schmidt's transfer to the Lincoln office of First Federal.

New Officers

Mrs. E. E. Henkle entertained the members of the Beta Theta Pi Alliance at a coffee Monday morning at her home.

Mrs. Hiram Hilton will be president of the group for the coming year, and other officers are Mrs. John Cramer, vice president; Mrs. John Lonnquist, secretary; Mrs. Sam Whitworth, treasurer; and Mrs. R. C. Mead, telephone chairman.

MRS. LARRY SPENCER

The marriage of Miss Diane Eilene Loewenstein, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Duane E. Loewenstein, to Larry Spencer Axthelm, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Axthelm, was solemnized Friday evening, May 18, at the Second Baptist Church. The lines of the 8 o'clock ceremony were read by the Rev. Herbert Ford, who had officiated at the marriage of the bride's parents, and Mrs. Tracy Clement, organist, played the wedding music. The vocalists were Miss Marian Fisher and Miss Ellen Granata.

Frocked in peppermint-toned organza over taffeta and carrying cascades of daisies were Miss Janet Wolford of Kearney, who was the maid of honor; the bridesmaid, Miss Karen Axthelm and Miss Kay Christiansen; and the junior bridesmaids, Miss Dearwyn Loewenstein and Miss Delaine Loewenstein.

Robert Patterson served Mr. Axthelm as best man, and seating the guests were Michael Harding of Mullen; Robert Spore, Lexington; Harold Burton, Bingham; and Keith Carlson, Axtell.

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of white Chantilly-type lace over bridal tulle. The long-sleeved basque was designed with a cameo necklace, traced with pearls and iridescent paillettes, and the lace continued below the slim waist into a voluminous skirt ending in kerchief points above a dust ruffle of the tulle. Crystal beading fashioned the crown which held her illusion veil, and she carried a crescent of white carnations centered with pink rosebuds.

Mr. and Mrs. Axthelm will make their home at 1317 No. 33rd. The bridegroom is attending the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho. Mrs. Axthelm is a former student at the University.

Coat-Making Tricks

Patricia Scott

An unlined coat of linen, cotton or any sturdy fabric, is nice to have around for cool summer evenings. This one-size coat fits sizes 8-14, and in some cases a 16, depending on the individual figure. The pattern is easily made larger or smaller by extending or taking in seam lines.

You'll Need: 4 pieces of fabric 46 inches long and 24 inches wide.

To cut: Both front and back patterns are measured off in exactly the same way, with only a few measurements differing. I'll explain how to measure one piece so you will not be confused by all the numbers on the diagram.

1. For the back, draw a rectangle 46" x 24". From the top left corner measure down 1 1/4 inches and mark; measure in 4 1/2 inches, for the shoulder, and mark. Join these two points with a curved line, forming the neckline. From the top right corner, measure down 1 1/2 inches and mark for the top sleeve end. Join this mark to the shoulder mark, forming a 20 1/2 inch long shoulder seam. From the sleeve end measure down 8 1/4 inches and mark. From here, measure in 3 1/4 inches and mark for the underarm sleeve end. Join this with the top sleeve end. For the underarm curve, measure in one-inch from the underarm sleeve end and mark. To form the side seam, draw a line from the underarm curve to the hem, 26 1/2 inches long, with the bottom edge 3/4 inch in from the side of the rectangle. For the hem edge, draw a curved line from center back bottom edge to the side edge, as shown. The center back seam is 44 1/4 inches long. The front is measured off in the same way, with this change in measurements: the neckline curve is deeper; the center front is 42 1/4 inches long; the measurement from the top sleeve edge down is 7 1/4 inches; and the bottom side hem edge is 5/8 inches in from edge.

2. Cut two long strips of fabric 5/8 inch wide and 42 1/2 inches long from left over fabric. Cut two fronts and two backs.

To Make: Place the backs right sides together and stitch the center back seam. Press. Pin the back and front shoulder seams together, stitch and press. For the neckband pattern, lay coat neck flap on paper and draw the neckline curve, extending it 1/4 inch at each end. Draw another line an inch outside the first line. Cut a band out of the fabric. Stitch the underarm and side seams, reinforcing the underarm with several stitches back and forth at the curve. Clip into curve and press open. Join two long bands to the neckband, taking 1/4 inch seam. Pin to the coat along the neck and center fronts, right sides together. Stitch close to the edge. Turn the facing to the inside of the coat and press. Fold the raw edge under and slip stitch it to coat. If you wish, top stitch around the outside of the neck and down the fronts 1/2 inch from edge for a decorative touch. Finish the seams and the raw edge of the hem with seam binding, or turn under the raw edges 1/8 inch and edge stitch. Turn up the hem as usual.

on South's play to this trick. If he had ducked the jack, he would have made four notrump, but when he covered with the queen, West took the ace and returned a spade to the ten to defeat the contract a trick.

The point in question is whether South should have covered the jack. From declarer's viewpoint, it was a key play that merited close attention.

South should reason that if the seven of spades lead was based on length in spades, it could have been made from one of these combinations: A-10-8-7-x-x, A-10-8-7-x, or A-10-8-7. Ducking the jack would be the winning play if West's lead was from a six-card suit, and ducking or covering the jack would make no difference in the other two cases.

West might also have led the seven of spades from these short-suit combinations: A-8-7, 10-8-7, 7-x-x, 7-x, as well as several others more remote. Of course, in the last three cases, South would be better off covering the jack with the queen, but East's play of the king followed by the jack would be inconsistent with any of these holdings. East would hardly be likely to play in this fashion, for example, if his holding were A-K-J-x-x.

It is therefore proper for declarer to duck the jack whether he thinks that West made a short-suit or a long-suit lead. In the actual case, South would have made the contract by ducking.

Dear Abby

Not Listening, Maybe

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a heel. I have been to see an attorney, and he in turn sent me to a priest. So far I have been to four priests with no solution in sight. Isn't there someone else besides a priest who could give me counsel?

HOLY MESS
DEAR MESS: If you really wanted "counsel," a combination of four priests could certainly provide it. Maybe you're not listening. Try a marriage counselor.

DEAR ABBY: Can you offer any suggestions on how a respectable young woman can become acquainted with a gentleman who has lived on her street for many years but whom she has never met? I live at home with my family and he lives nearby. He lives alone and I don't think he is interested in anyone else because he is home almost every evening and on week-ends. (I see his light burning). He is very conservative and on the shy side and so am I.

SHY AND LONELY
DEAR SHY: Unless you want to be forever "lonely," you had better use a little ingenuity. Put the "good neighbor policy" into action. Ask a good neighbor to arrange a small neighborhood get-together, and be sure to include your shy friend. Perhaps he is not for you at all. But at least you'll know.

DEAR ABBY: Will you tell me if it is proper to bring an "escort" to a wedding? I am being married soon, and many of my friends have told me that if they can't bring their own "escorts" they are not coming. I have invited about 16 of my girl friends to my wedding and reception and I cannot afford to let them each bring an escort. What should I do?

UPSET BRIDE-TO-BE
DEAR UPSET: An engaged guest may request permission to bring her "intended" to a wedding. But not any old "escort."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WILLING TO WAIT": Don't be a fool. His wife has the respectability of being his "Mrs." She also has all the legal protection, plus the "children whom he adores." All YOU have is his "word," which you surely know is not worth very much. Surrender, dear.

How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

SAC General: Defense Is Everybody's Task

Lt. Gen. John P. McConnell, vice commander in chief of the Strategic Air Command, warned that the nation cannot delegate the task of deterrence to the military alone. It is a task that demands the total effort of the nation.

Gen. McConnell, speaker at the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce-sponsored Armed Forces Week observance, said, "We do not need to go back to 1848 and Karl Marx to find the reason for our present military establishment. We only need to go back to January 1960 and read the strategic aims defined by Russia's Premier Khrushchev."

The Russian target is the United States, whose defeat will give the world to communism. The destruction of the American society was stated as the irrevocable goal to which Russia must exert its total effort.

"The Russians have not forgotten that, and we must not," Gen. McConnell said.

250 At Luncheon
Some 200 attended the observance at a noon luncheon for commissioned and non-commissioned representatives from all branches of service. City and state government was officially represented.

Gen. McConnell asserted that it would be a blessing if all the missiles installed in their defensive bases rusted away. But he advised that they represent the sacrifice that Americans have been called upon to bear in increasing weight for the pursuit of survival.

"If these fabulously expensive weapons on land, sea and air never are required to fire a shot in anger and their inevitable, more sophisticated successor weapons also remain untriggered, they are still a good buy. We must accept that in the realization that there is not as yet any foreseeable end to the sacrifice, nor guarantee in the end against their use if we are to live," he said.

Gen. McConnell warned against public detachment; the invitation to escape by delegating defense to the military, or seeking a refuge in softness. He warned that 19 of the 21 world civilizations died of internal decay. Their life average was 200 years, an age the United States will reach in 14 more years.

Folkestad Heads Forest Service Lincoln Office

James O. Folkestad will head the Forest Service office in Lincoln, beginning June 1, regional forester David S. Nordwall announced.

Folkestad replaces Harry P. Gaylor who has served as supervisor of the U.S. Department of Agriculture post here since 1956.

With the change in supervisors, the Lincoln office will be redesignated from Nebraska National Forest Office to Central Plains Forestry Office.

Responsibilities assigned to this unit include administration of the Nebraska National Forest, the Ogallala National Grassland and cooperative forestry programs with state foresters in Nebraska and Kansas.

Gaylor will be transferred to the Denver regional office, fire control branch.

Bidding On Postal Service At Base Closes May 26

Proposals for furnishing all postal clerical service at the Lincoln Air Force Base branch will be received until Friday in the office of Acting Postmaster Kenneth P. Lewis.

Lewis said the service proposals, for the month of June will be subject to renewal for 3 years without advertising.

The federal government will furnish quarters and required equipment, including a safe, heat, light and custodial service, Lewis said.

Bluffs Bonds Pass

Council Bluffs (Iowa) A $900,000 school bond election carried 2,769 to 1,390 in Council Bluffs. The bond issue will provide funds for additions to two high schools and two grade schools.

Church Attendance

BUILDS CHARACTER

God's Soil

...and it's time to conserve it...time to save it! It is evident, when we witness the increased destruction of timber lands, national cover crops and wide-spread erosion, America needs a national Save-The-Soil-Week. It is urgent that we treat Mother Earth with greater respect and appreciation. We must give back to her as much as we take away. There's no better time than during National Save-The-Soil-Week, to come to a full realization that "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof." We are stewards, appointed by God, to look after the earth He gave us. It is time to renew your faith in God and the Good Earth.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity. Be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

Dendrochronology is the method of reading tree rings to determine the age of trees.

Economists caution that if you must pay more than 15% of income exclusively of a home mortgage—for in statement buying you may be heading for financial trouble.

Powdered bananas were recommended by early Chinese for strengthening bone marrow since 1935.

The U.S. Mint has 74 million silver dollars on hand. It has not stamped one out since 1935.

One letter simply stands for another, in this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day in a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6 add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. Beltzer Displeased With Performance With Shot

... SAYS HE'LL ATTEND NU

A kick in disgust just after completion of the event. "I was just right at the Kearney Invitational but then I got sick and it set me back," he explained.

A prolonged flu attack had kept the husky athlete below par for over two weeks. Only this week did he began to show his earlier form which resulted in a 59-84 effort—best ever in schoolboy ranks.

Beltzer was a cinch to win the Gold Medal after Schuyler's Gary Brichacek repeated as the Class B winner with a 53-11 1/4 put. The Class C and D shotputters go today with none expected to reach Brichacek.

Frustrating Moments For Starter

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

The man with the red sleeve and pistol at the State High School Track meet had some frustrating moments during the 100-yard dash preliminaries.

During the first two heats there were 7 false starts and Mike Milbauer was disqualified from the first heat of the Class D century for two jumps.

But the starter, E. A. Thomas of Topeka, Kan., has had plenty of experience with frustration.

After a long career as head of the Kansas prep athletic association, Thomas became the president of the Topeka Reds baseball club of the Three I League. It was Thomas, during the dismal run-arounds dished out to the Three I at the minor league convention in Tampa, Fla., who finally put the issue in perspective by telling baseball brass to "fish or cut bait."

Good Lane

Lane No. one was a good draw for Friday's preliminaries, of the 68 heats run off, runners in the first lane came in ahead of the pack 22 times.

Lane one runners had their best success in the 440 prelims, winning 9 of 12 heats. First-laners were victories in 5 of the 8 half-mile heats and all 3 Class d low hurdle heat winners were on the rail.

Moral: the prep thincads came into the meet with honest clockings and the favorites held up well. Lane assignments are made on the basis of district qualifying times.

Joe (Golden Voice) DiNatale, the veteran public address announcer from North Platte, had a few anxious moments when his mike suffered power failure.

And hearty scribes from all parts of the state braved the elements until the first drop of rain — then dashed to the safety of the Stadium.

Several set up their typewriters in the old football shower room area boarding the indoor track.

Speaking of North Platte (and Genial Joe often does), 6 of the 8 pointwinners in the Class A pole vault qualified in the NP district meet — champ Jack Ehler of Scottsbluff, defending king Howard Durst of Gering, Jim Hardekopf of Kearney, Larry Wachholtz of North Platte, and Larry Miller of Sidney.

All qualified by clearing 12-foot and making the state meet via the new rule.

Exceptions to North Platte district domination were Mark Ward of Fairbury and Carl West of Omaha North.

Class A Race Still Question

... SEVERAL TEAMS HAVE GOOD CHANCE

and Hastings and Scottsbluff 4 apiece.

How they qualified:

|-----------------|----------------|
| Grand Island 6 | Cr. Prep 2 |
| Omaha Tech 5 | North Platte 2 |
| Hastings 4 | Omaha North 1 |
| Scottsbluff 4 | Boys Town 1 |
| Kearney 3 | Southeast 1 |
| Omaha Central 3 | Fremont 1 |
| Fairbury 2 | |

The top 4 all have runners in the dashes which probably will be won by Omaha Central's fabulous Terry Williams who led the qualifiers in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Tech's speed forte was damaged somewhat Friday when Claude Spencer missed the 100-yard dash finals field and Fred Farthing, a late comer in the low hurdles, didn't qualify.

GI, Scottsbluff and Tech figure to do well today.

Grand Island landed the most qualifiers for today's track finals — 6. Tech has 5

Spencer was the top 440 qualifier, however.

Grand Island has an ace in the hole in field man Jim Beltzer who set a new shot record Friday and is favored in the discus this morning at 10:30 a.m.

Scottsbluff has two strong milers to retaliate with, indicating the relay events probably will decide the Class A champ to replace Omaha Central.

Killing Mounts As Night Falls

By RODNEY ANGOVE

Algiers (AP) — Terrorist attacks slackened most of the day in Algiers but by nightfall the slaughter increased once more, pushing the death toll from 6 to 15 in a few hours.

The explosion of a booby-trapped car took the biggest single toll — a 75-year-old Frenchwoman and 3 Moslems.

Later the sound of bursting bazooka projectiles was heard near the Moslem district of Dar el Kef, but it was not immediately known whether there were any casualties.

One of the Europeans was killed with a single .32 caliber bullet in the head less than 24 hours after his wife was cut down in a blast of machine gun fire.

Another was a French army sergeant. He crumpled under two bursts from a sub-machine gun as he started for work.

In both cases, witnesses told police they saw European gunmen fleeing.

Perregaux but nobody was reported hurt.

Although the Secret Army slackened off in Algiers, 4 Moslems and two Europeans were shot dead in the streets.

Three white-veiled Moslem women and a Moslem man were killed by Europeans' submachine guns and pistols. Another woman and 3 men were wounded.

Secret Army agents killed two fellow Europeans they suspected of working against them and blasted the property of others.

One of the Europeans was killed with a single .32 caliber bullet in the head less than 24 hours after his wife was cut down in a blast of machine gun fire.

Another was a French army sergeant. He crumpled under two bursts from a sub-machine gun as he started for work.

No Unions Allowed In Intelligence

Washington (AP) — The Pentagon moved Friday to discourage unions in defense intelligence and investigative agencies.

A formal directive, signed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, defines the role and collective bargaining rights of the federal worker unions within the department, under an executive order by President Kennedy last January.

The order specifies that the Defense Department will recognize the rights of employees to form and join unions or to refrain from joining.

But it makes two exceptions. One says this policy does not apply to the National Security Agency, the Defense Intelligence Agency or any other organization which performs intelligence, investigative or security functions.

However, there is a clause which would permit union activity if a director of an agency or a service secretary decided this could be done in a manner consistent with national security requirements.

The second exception rules out any union composed predominantly of foreign nationals at overseas bases, although the Secretary of the Army could authorize such unions in the Panama Canal Zone.

A spokesman, answering questions, said a number of AFL-CIO unions already operate in the department.

The spokesman noted that among other things, agencies could involve listing of names of persons working for those agencies, which would not be desirable.

—YUGOSLAVIAN REVEALS—
Stalin Expected War By 1965

New York (AP) — "The war shall soon be over. We shall recover in 15 or 20 years, and then we'll have another go at it."

The late Soviet Prime Minister Josef Stalin made that remark gleefully back in April 1945, Milovan Djilas, deposed vice president of Yugoslavia, says in "Conversations with Stalin," his new book.

As Stalin said it, Djilas adds, his troops had "already trampled half of Europe under foot, and he was convinced that they would trample over the other half in the next round."

In Belgrade Tuesday, the author was sentenced to eight years and eight months imprisonment on grounds he had disclosed state secrets and broken parole by putting out the book. Djilas's narrative concerns visits he made to the Soviet Union in 1944, 1945, and 1948 on official missions for Yugoslavia.

He says Stalin was "almost in a transport" when he predicted another war while dining with Yugoslav communist leaders at his villa outside Moscow.

Stalin, he reports, had just remarked that the Slavs must stick together because in 12 or 15 years the German would be on their feet again.

On the same occasion, says Djilas, Stalin declared that in the Second World War, "whoever occupies a territory also imposes on it his own social system."

Djilas makes no point of the fact that Soviet troops moved in response to German attack. But he says in Stalin's defense — "He was convinced that he was executing the judgment of history."

He reports that when he saw Stalin again in January 1948, the Soviet leader declared Germany must stay divided — "The West will make Western Germany their own, and we shall turn Eastern Germany into our own state."

Goldberg Sets Up Rail Talk

Washington (AP) — The government moved Friday to get stalemated bargaining talks resumed between the nation's railroads and 5 operating labor unions.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg asked representatives of the carriers and the unions to meet with him here next Wednesday "to review the matter."

The railroad cut off 6 weeks of bargaining talks in Chicago Thursday, saying they were getting nowhere. They contended the unions refused to consider recommendations made by a Presidential railroad commission to institute operating economies.

Dr. Daly Elevated To Department Chairman

Dr. Joseph M. Daly, professor of plant pathology and botany, was elevated by the NU Board of Regents Friday to chairman of the department of plant pathology at the NU College of Agriculture.

A member of the staff since 1956, he will assume the chairmanship June 1. Dr. John L. Wehling has been serving as acting chairman since the resignation of Dr. William B. Allington on Feb. 1. Dr. Allington remained on the staff as professor of plant pathology.

The Regents also appointed Dr. Stanley T. Vandersand as acting chairman of the department of Classics. The present chairman, Dr. Clarence G. Lowe, will be relieved of administrative duties because of the 65 age limit. Dr. Lowe will remain as an instructor.

Leaves
The Board also approved these leaves of absence:

—Dr. Henry Baumgarten, professor of chemistry, from Sept. 1 to Aug. 31, 1962, to do advanced research at California Institute of Technology as a Guggenheim Fellow.

—Eliel Dierichsen, extension food and nutrition specialist, from June 1 to May 31, 1962, to serve with the Food and Agriculture Organization at Port-of-Span in Trinidad, BWI.

—Philip P. Fehl, associate professor

★ ★ ★ REGENTS PAY TRIBUTE TO DR. CHASSON

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents expressed regret Friday afternoon at the loss of Dr. Robert L. Chasson, chairman of the NU Physics Department, but expressed confidence in the other members of the physics staff.

"Dr. Chasson is a good physicist and his resignation will be a loss to the University. However, other members of the physics staff are of high calibre and will help during the transition period," the Board's statement said. "The Board recognizes the need of continuing a good physics department and will do all in its power to achieve this goal," the statement continued.

of art, who will do research the first semester and then teach the second at University of California.

—Dr. Donald T. Wagnere, professor of oral pathology, from June 25 to July 31, 1962, to present papers before the 8th International Cancer Congress in Moscow and before the Dental Society of Europe in Holland.

—Dr. J. Galen Saylor, professor of secondary education, from Sept. 1 to Aug. 31, 1962, to serve as Fulbright lecturer at the School of Education in Jyväskylä, Finland.

Resignations

The Board also accepted these resignations:

—Dr. Robert L. Chasson, professor of the department of physics, effective Sept. 1, to accept another position.

—John H. Nebelsick, county extension agent, effective May 31, to accept position as farm manager for Presbyterian church in Puerto Rico.

—Dr. William H. Coll, assistant professor of zoology and physiology, effective Aug. 31, who is accepting a position at University of Kansas.

—Neil McArthur, instructor in speech and dramatic art, effective July 1; to accept position as director of admissions at Black Hills State College.

—Esther Meacham, associate professor of home economics, effective Sept. 1, who has been on leave and will accept a position at Ohio State University.

Appointments

In other personnel action, the Board approved these appointments:

—Dr. Michael Shugart, as assistant to the chancellor and assistant professor of English, effective July 1; has been a member of the University of Illinois faculty.

—Gordon L. Quick, as principal of Curtis School of Agriculture, effective Aug. 1, in place of Robert Ellsworth, who resigned; Mr. Quick, who earned both his Bachelor's and Master's degrees from the University, served as principal at Benedict and at David City, the latter from 1959-61.

—Dr. Edward N. Megay as associate professor of political science, effective Sept. 1; has been associate professor at College of St. Thomas, St. Paul, Minn.

—L. Tracy Clement, assistant director of Great Plains Regional Instructional Television Library, effective May 21; has been principal of Palmyra High School this past year.

—Roger E. Uhlinger, assistant professor of horticulture and forestry, effective May 21; will receive his Ph.D. from Cornell University this June.

—Dr. M. Scheffle, assistant professor of speech and dramatic art, from Sept. 1 to June 8, 1963, to teach radio-TV courses; has been assistant professor at Central Missouri State College from 1959-62.

Contract Let For Checking CD Shelters

Maj. Gen. Lyle A. Welch, Nebraska state civil defense director, announced that a contract for Phase 2 of the national shelter survey in 21 Nebraska counties has been awarded to Burrill & McNett Inc., Omaha architect engineers.

The counties are Adams, Webster, Franklin, Furnas, Gosper, Hamilton, Harlan, Kearney, Phelps, Hall, Frontier, Nuckolls, Saline, Thayer, Hayes, Hitchcock, Red Willow, Buffalo, Clay, Fillmore and Seward.

Gen. Welch said the survey will include physical inspection of potential shelter facilities shown to have a fall-out protection factor of 40 or higher (40 times more protection than the outdoors). Then will come study of the practicality and cost of upgrading these shelters by proper ventilation, emergency power and shielding of entrances to increase the protection factor to 100.

The federal government will stock selected shelters which provide a protection factor of 100 or greater and spaces for a minimum of 50 persons. Owners must execute agreements to make such facilities available as public shelters during a time of actual emergency.

PROPOSED AG COLLEGE LIBRARY

This architectural concept of the proposed $1.2 million library for the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture campus shows the unit will be one of the most flexible on the Lincoln campus. It features no interior partitions, large ex-panes of glass exterior with a roof overhang to protect the second-floor reading areas. Bids will probably be asked next September. Architects are Clark and Enersen, Lincoln.

Grants To University Total Nearly $650,000

Research grants totaling $479,262 and training grants of $170,778 were accepted Friday afternoon by the University of Nebraska Board of Regents.

The grants include those received by the University Research Administrator during the period March 8 to May 10, 1962.

Historian Reviews Egyptian Discoveries Of Importance

Three important discoveries in the past 10 years were cited Friday night by an Egyptian history professor as significant steps in adding to the knowledge of Egyptian history, art and civilization.

Dr. Ahmed Fakhry of the University of Cairo, speaking at the University of Nebraska's Love Library, named the Solar Boats of Cheops, the unfinished pyramid of Sakkara, and the pyramids of Snefru at Dahshur as important archeological discoveries in Egypt.

The discoveries at Dahshur are Dr. Fakhry's own work and he says the pyramids at the excavations are the first pyramids built in Egypt.

The Egyptian archeologist explained the importance of the Sakkara discoveries as one of the greatest examples of step pyramids. Some of these pyramids are constructed of 3,200,000 stones with an average weight of 2½ tons per stone, he pointed out.

The Boats of Cheops were cited because of their role in telling the story of boat construction in early Egypt.

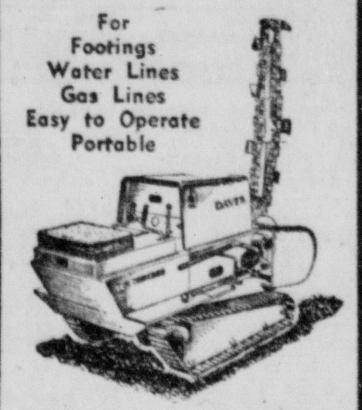

One of the boats discovered is constructed of 650 pieces of large wood, plus numerous smaller fragments, Dr. Fakhry explained. A special museum is being built in Egypt for housing this particular boat.

"Only a scratch has been made in the archeological discoveries possible in Egypt," he said. "We will be hearing always of great discoveries in Egypt."

Friday night's appearance was the second of the day for him on the NU campus. Dr. Fakhry is in the United States to accompany the exhibition of "Tutankhamun Treasures" at the Joselyn Art Museum in Omaha.

Papers About Ready For Sanitary District

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Sanitary District may execute the agreement for dissolution on Sept. 1 at its next meeting.

Atty. Max Kier advised the board Friday that the agreement with the Salt-Wahoo District and City of Lincoln will be ready for signing at the June 1 meeting.

Kier said the advisable procedure was for the Sanitary District board to sign first.

Divide Assets

The agreement calls for the division of assets and obligations of the dissolved district between the city and Salt-Wahoo district.

The city will assume storm drainage responsibility within its corporate limits while Salt-Wahoo will be responsible for flood control, storm drainage and sanitary sewers outside the city.

All money and uncollected taxes as well as real estate and easements useful for the sewage treatment plant and system will go to the city as well as the heavy equipment and employees.

Office Lease

The Salt-Wahoo will take over the office lease and of office equipment and all real property and easements not transferred to the city.

District Engineer Richard DeVries reported that the $14,500 Black and Veatch study of the sewer requirements in the Stevens Creek watershed and treatment plant needs will be ready by June 1.

The board proposed a joint meeting with the City Council and the respective engineering staffs when the report is made by a Black & Veatch engineer.

The study being made by the Kansas City consulting engineering firm was financed by the district.

PUMPER TRUCK READY TO GO; SNORKEL NEXT

A new 1,000-gallon-per-minute fire pumper was undergoing tests Friday preparatory to be placed in service by the Fire Department.

Fire Chief Roscoe Benton said the $23,000 engine would be housed at Station No. 2 at 23rd and O and a 750-gallon-per-minute pumper would be shifted to new Station 9 at 901 N. Cotner when completed.

Benton said a $39,000 "Snorkel" unit — hydraulic aerial platform truck — is scheduled for delivery June 5.

Both fire-fighting units were authorized by the City Council in the current fire budget.

27 Sworn In As New Americans

Twenty-seven persons from 11 different countries were sworn in as citizens of the United States Friday before U.S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt.

Five of the new citizens are children. Two other children missed the naturalization proceedings because of chickenpox, but will be admitted to citizenship at a later date.

"The United States is only one class of citizenship," Judge Van Pelt told the class. "It's the same whether by birth or by naturalization."

Repatritized to U.S. citizenship was Julia Cecilia Hejl.

The new citizens and the countries where they were born:

Meet Star Carrier Ronald Melichar

Meet Star Carrier Ronald Melichar, who is the Lincoln Star carrier - salesman on route B782. He delivers to his subscribers from 41st to 46th and from Madison to Greenwood.

Ronald is the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Melichar of 4200 Adams. He is a student at Daws Junior High where he reports that mathematics and industrial arts are his favorite subjects.

An avid sportsman Ronald lists his favorite sports as baseball and bowling. A member of a bowling team, Ronald also plays on the Northeast Midlands baseball team. He plays football and basketball during the fall and winter seasons.

During his spare time Ronald builds model cars. He also devotes a great deal of time to his coin collection. He worships at Sacred Heart Church.

From his Lincoln Star route Ronald realizes approximately $22 profit every 4 week period. He spends some of this on his hobbies, buys his own clothes, and places the rest of it in his savings account. Having a good eye for business, Ronald has opened a checking account to handle his business transactions more conveniently.

Ronald says he likes his route very much. He has learned a great deal by meeting people and doing business with them. Handling money in a business-like manner is another valuable experience he has gained from his route.

Sperry Details Shooting Events

By GERRY WRIGHT
Star Staff Writer

Ray Clair Sperry, 26-year-old plaintiff in a $100,000 damage suit against county law enforcement officers and an insurance company, gave his version of a 1960 shooting incident in which he was allegedly wounded 3 times by Deputy Sheriff William Greiner.

Sperry, of 1329 No. 27th, is suing Greiner, Sheriff Merle Karnopp and the Universal Surety Co. for alleged damages occurring July 30, 1960 near the former Royal Grove tavern in West Lincoln.

In opening testimony Sperry told a jury of 5 women and 7 men that he did not see any law officers when he started running and was shot in the early morning hours of July 30.

Sperry alleges he was shot without just cause by Deputy Greiner.

Relates Events

He told the court the following account of the incident:

He had gone to the tavern with a friend the evening of July 29.

He said that the friend had left and was to pick him up later. After waiting outside the tavern, he got into a car parked in the lot and fell asleep, he said.

Sperry said that he found a flashlight lying next to him when he woke up and flashed it around the car to see what time it was.

He said he then got out of the car and started running. "I didn't see the law enforcement officers or the patrol car or hear them say anything when I started running."

"I don't know why I ran," Sperry further testified.

Dr. Paul H. Thorough, physician who treated Sperry following the shooting, testified that the plaintiff suffered a bullet wound in the back of the neck and scalp and one in the buttocks.

He said when he saw Sperry in the early morning of July 30, 1960, the plaintiff was "bleeding slightly" from both wounds.

Doctor's Testimony

After treating him on several occasions, Dr. Thorough said, Sperry was in good condition by January of 1961.

He testified that the last time he saw Sperry was in April, 1961, and at that time the complaints of Sperry were "not, in my opinion, associated with the injuries" incurred from the shooting incident.

The plaintiff suffered no shock with the wounds and had "no permanent injury the last time I saw him," the physician further stated.

In opening statements, Attorney Dale Fahrbruch, representing Greiner, and County Attorney Paul Douglas told the jurors that Deputy Greiner was "doing his duty as deputy" when he fired after the plaintiff did not stop at his order of "halt."

No Intent

"Greiner did not intend to hit Sperry but only to intimidate him," Fahrbruch said.

John Doyle, attorney for Sperry, emphasized in his opening statements the pain and suffering incurred by Sperry as a result of the incident and contended that Greiner was not acting within the line of duty.

Seaton Calls Strategy Meet Of GOP Brass

Omaha (UPI) — A strategy meeting Saturday called by Fred A. Seaton, Republican nominee for governor, will include nearly every high official in the state party, Seaton announced.

Purpose of the meeting is to plan strategy for the Republican campaign in the new First Congressional District, Seaton said. All 4 of the candidates for the First District nomination will be on hand, Seaton said, "demonstrating the complete unity of this effort."

Seaton said he invited the winner, Rep. Ralph Beermann, and the runnerup, Rep. Phil Weaver, who will fly here from Washington. With their permission, he said, he then invited former Rep. R. D. Harrison of Norfolk and William Swearingen, Lincoln, the other two candidates.

Invitation List

Other party leaders to be on hand are Sen. Roman L.

Hruska, R-Neb.; Donald R. Ross, Omaha, national committeeman; Mrs. Edna Basten Donald, Grand Island, national committeewoman; Robert V. Denney, Fairbury, state chairman; Mrs. Anne Batchelder, Omaha, vice chairman; Fred Irons, Seaton's campaign manager, and Jack Schuetz, Beermann's aide.

Seaton and the others will meet the plane carrying Beermann and Weaver at the ination from the First District here Saturday afternoon, then go to the Blackstone Hotel for the conference, the former interior secretary said.

(Informed sources said invitations for the meeting originated from Denney.)

Hruska will be in Nebraska for the Homestead Act centennial observance.

Competitors Friends

Beermann and Weaver, who waged a spirited campaign to gain the lone nomistrict following merger of the old First and Third Districts, exchanged cordial telegrams after returns made it clear that Beermann had won.

Uppermost in the minds of party workers was the need to quickly unite the territories of the old First and Third Districts, each of which went down the line for its former congressman. Beermann dominated the vote in the old Third district counties and Weaver won all the counties held over from the old First.

Latin American Speech Tuesday By Dr. Morales

Dr. Arturo Morales-Carrion, the deputy assistant secretary of state for Inter-American Affairs, will speak on the "Alliance for Progress" at the University of Nebraska Tuesday.

The program is open to the public and will be held at 4 p.m. in the Love Library Auditorium.

An active participant at both Punta Del Este Conferences, Dr. Morales is described as a strong advocate of an active U.S. role in the development of South and Central America.

Mr. Morales has previously criticized U.S. programs for lack of co-ordination, and for putting too much emphasis on private enterprise rather than public projects.

His visit will be sponsored by the University Research Council and the department of history.
